Dear Captain Curtis:

The Justice System Integrity Division of the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office has completed its review of the June 5, 2006, non-fatal shooting of Thomas Wilkinson by Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department (LASD) Deputy [REDACTED]. We find that Deputy [REDACTED] acted in lawful self-defense and defense of others.

The District Attorney's Command Center was notified of this incident at 12:45 p.m. The District Attorney Response Team, consisting of Deputy District Attorney Linda S. Reisz and Senior District Attorney Investigator [REDACTED] responded to the scene. They were given a briefing and walk-through by LASD investigators.

The following analysis is based upon the police reports, witnesses' statements, experts' reports and scientific test results relating to this matter submitted to this office on September 10, 2007, by Detective Philip Martinez of the LASD. Compelled statements, if any exist, were not considered in our analysis.

FACTUAL ANALYSIS

On June 5, 2006, shortly after noon, LASD Deputies [REDACTED] and Aura Sierra were assigned to the Carson Sheriff's Station, working uniformed patrol. Each deputy was assigned to a separate one-person marked patrol car. Deputy [REDACTED] responded to a call of a petty theft in progress at the Big K-Mart, located at 902 West Sepulveda Boulevard in Carson. Deputies [REDACTED] and Sierra responded to the call to assist Deputy [REDACTED]. The deputies each covered a separate store exit.

Deputy [REDACTED] saw Thomas Wilkinson, who matched the suspect description that had been broadcast in the radio call. Wilkinson emerged from the emergency exit door on the northwest side of K-Mart. Deputy [REDACTED] ordered him to stop, but Wilkinson ran back into the store. Wilkinson ran through the store and out of an alarmed emergency exit door on the loading dock. He then ran through the K-Mart parking lot and south on Vermont Avenue. Wilkinson was pursued by Deputy [REDACTED] as he ran down West Stonebyrn Drive and jumped the wall behind a residence. Witnesses told [REDACTED] that Wilkinson had climbed a fence and was running along an access road adjacent to a wash.

Deputy [REDACTED] remained behind the residence at [REDACTED] [REDACTED] Deputies Sierra and [REDACTED] arrived to assist [REDACTED] in the search. [REDACTED] drove further west on West Stonebyrn Drive in an effort to intercept Wilkinson.

Moments later, [REDACTED] heard over the Sheriff's radio that [REDACTED] was holding the suspect at gunpoint. He immediately began running to [REDACTED] location at [REDACTED]. As he ran [REDACTED] heard [REDACTED] broadcast the radio code for an officer involved shooting.

When [REDACTED] arrived at [REDACTED] [REDACTED] he saw [REDACTED] pointing his handgun at the residence. He did not see the suspect. [REDACTED] left [REDACTED] in front of the residence at [REDACTED]. He heard radio traffic indicating that the suspect was at [REDACTED]. He saw Wilkinson at the residence and observed that he was kicking and screaming as deputies attempted to handcuff him. [REDACTED] saw that Wilkinson had blood on the right front side of his pants.

[REDACTED] [REDACTED] resides at [REDACTED]. On June 5, 2006, she was upstairs in the master bedroom speaking on the telephone with her [REDACTED] when she heard someone clear their throat in the hallway. She put the phone down and went to the hall to investigate. She saw Wilkinson, who was a stranger, standing at the top of the stairs. She began to struggle with him, and pushed him down the stairs. At the bottom of the stairs she observed that her front door was closed and locked. While Wilkinson did not try to assault her, he was trying to hold on to [REDACTED] who felt threatened due to his physical appearance and his presence in her home.

[REDACTED] ran to her front door, unlocked it, and ran out into her front yard. As she ran she yelled "somebody help me, somebody's in my house." She saw several deputies in her front yard. She ran to her [REDACTED] house and began banging on the front door to be let in. As she ran, she heard the Sheriff's deputies twice say "Stop! Come out with your hands up," and approximately twenty seconds later heard two gunshots.

Deputy [REDACTED] was attempting to assist Deputy [REDACTED] in locating Wilkinson. He drove west on Stonebyrn and parked, leaving the radio car running. He heard dogs barking to the north and west of his location. Following the sounds, he moved two to three houses to the west. He was in front of [REDACTED] house when he saw her exit the house screaming "Help me! He's got me, he's in my house." He saw [REDACTED] running away from her house with her hands up. Wilkinson was directly behind her. It appeared to [REDACTED] that [REDACTED] had just broken free from Wilkinson's grasp after a struggle. [REDACTED] pointed his gun at Wilkinson, and broadcast that he was detaining a suspect at gunpoint.

Wilkinson was running when [REDACTED] first encountered him. [REDACTED] described Wilkinson as six feet two inches tall and 230 to 240 pounds. Wilkinson appeared to be upset, and also appeared to be mentally disturbed. Wilkinson addressed [REDACTED] stating "fuck you, just shoot me." [REDACTED] ordered, "let me see your hands" and "get down on the ground." Wilkinson did not comply and began to turn his body; he had one hand up. He continued to yell "just shoot me" while concealing his left hand from [REDACTED].

[REDACTED] believed Wilkinson was dangerous and might harm him. He also believed he saw movement within the house; he feared that someone else was inside the residence and that Wilkinson would return and take a hostage.

Wilkinson charged at Deputy [REDACTED] who, in fear for his life, fired one round at Wilkinson. Wilkinson turned and ran towards the house. In an effort to prevent Wilkinson from entering the home and taking a hostage, [REDACTED] fired again. In spite of his wound, Wilkinson was able to enter the residence and close the door. [REDACTED] broadcast that he was in an officer involved shooting.

When [REDACTED] broke free from Wilkinson, she ran to her [REDACTED] house at [REDACTED] (to the [REDACTED] of her own home). [REDACTED] heard [REDACTED] trying to get into her house. [REDACTED] let her in and was trying to calm [REDACTED] when they heard a banging and someone trying to open the rear sliding glass door. They looked up and saw Wilkinson at the back door. [REDACTED] her [REDACTED] and her [REDACTED] ran out of the front door.

[REDACTED] heard a female voice screaming from [REDACTED] house. [REDACTED] saw the [REDACTED] run from the house and heard them screaming that someone was breaking into their residence. He ran towards the [REDACTED]. He saw Wilkinson on the ground at the side of the house and saw Deputies Sierra and Steve Dodson attempting with difficulty to handcuff him. Wilkinson was yelling incoherently and cursing at the deputies. The deputies ultimately succeeded in their efforts to arrest Wilkinson. He was not armed.

Wilkinson was transported by paramedics to Harbor General Hospital, where he was treated in the emergency room for a through-and-through gunshot wound to the thigh. He was later approved for booking and was transported to the Los Angeles County Jail.

The property Wilkinson stole from Big K-Mart was recovered by Loss Prevention [REDACTED]. That property included men's clothing, shoes, underwear, fragrance and tools.

A canvass of the neighborhood revealed that Wilkinson had attempted to gain entry to the home of [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] senior citizens who resided at [REDACTED]. The [REDACTED] were present at the time Wilkinson attempted to gain entry, but they were not aware of his efforts to enter their home. Wilkinson removed a screen from a side window of the house, but was unable to gain entry. He left behind a pair of pliers; blood and fingerprints were obtained from the area of attempted entry.

On June 9, 2006, Wilkinson was charged in case TA085129 with residential burglary, commercial burglary, petty theft with a prior and obstructing a peace officer. Wilkinson was on parole at that time for a [REDACTED] of [REDACTED] ([REDACTED]) an [REDACTED], case [REDACTED]. He was also on probation in case [REDACTED] for [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. He had a [REDACTED] in that [REDACTED]. The [REDACTED] in [REDACTED] was [REDACTED] and the charges in case TA085129 were dismissed in the interest of justice. Wilkinson had a total of [REDACTED] as an adult, for [REDACTED] and [REDACTED].

APPLICABLE LAW

In protecting himself or another, a person may use all force which he believes reasonably necessary and which would appear to a reasonable person, in the same or similar circumstances, to be necessary to prevent injury which appears to be imminent. California Jury Instructions - Criminal (CALCRIM) 3470 and Penal Code §§ 692-694.

The California Court of Appeal has held that actual danger is not necessary to justify the use of deadly force in self-defense. If one is confronted by the appearance of danger which one believes, and a reasonable person in the same position would believe, would result in death or great bodily injury, one may act upon those circumstances. The right of self-defense is the same whether the danger is real or merely apparent. People v. Toledo (1948) 85 Cal.App.2d 577. Where the peril is swift and imminent and the necessity for action immediate, the law does not weigh into nice scales the conduct of the assailed and say he shall not be justified in killing because he might have resorted to other means to secure his safety. People v. Collins (1961) 189 Cal.App.2d 575

In Graham v. Connor (1989) 490 U.S. 386, the United States Supreme Court held that the reasonableness of the force used "requires careful attention to the facts and circumstances" of the particular incident "including the severity of the crime at issue, whether the suspect poses an immediate threat to the safety of the officers or others, and whether he is actively resisting arrest or attempting to evade arrest by flight." (Id., at 396) Further the Court stated, "[t]he 'reasonableness' of a particular use of force must be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight." (Id., at 397) Moreover, "[t]he calculus of reasonableness must embody allowance for the fact that police officers are often forced to make split-second judgments - in circumstances that are tense, uncertain and rapidly evolving - about the amount of force that is necessary in a particular situation." (Id., at 397-398)

"...Thus, under Graham, we must avoid substituting our personal notions of proper police procedure for the instantaneous decision of the officer at the scene. We must never allow the theoretical, sanitized world of our imagination to replace the dangerous and complex world that policemen face every day. What constitutes "reasonable" action may seem quite different to someone facing a possible assailant than to someone analyzing the question at leisure." Smith v. Freland (6th Cir. 1992) 954 F.2d 343, 347. Graham's definition of reasonableness has been described as "comparatively generous to police in cases where potential danger, emergency conditions or other exigent circumstances are present" (Roy v. Inhabitants of the City of Lewiston (1st Cir. 1994) 42 F.3d 691) and also as giving police "... a fairly wide zone of protection in close cases ..." Martinez v. County of Los Angeles (1996) 47 Cal.App.4th 334.

CONCLUSION

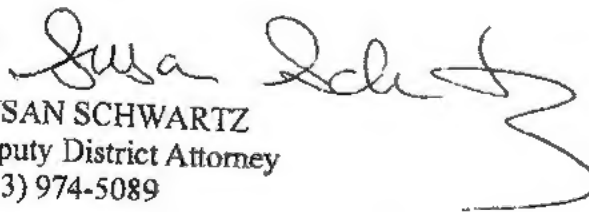

The evidence examined in this investigation indicates that Thomas Wilkinson committed a theft at Big K-Mart and fled from the scene on foot. He fled from Sheriff's deputies, who had ordered him to stop. In the course of his flight, he broke into an occupied residence, and attempted to break into two others, also occupied. Wilkinson posed a grave danger to the occupants.

LASD Deputy [REDACTED] was attempting to locate Wilkinson when he heard a woman's screams coming from [REDACTED]. He heard [REDACTED] scream "Help me, he's got me, he's in my house." He saw [REDACTED] break away from Wilkinson and run from her home with Wilkinson in pursuit. Wilkinson appeared to be mentally disturbed. He would not comply with the deputy's commands to show his hands and to lie on the ground. Wilkinson became belligerent, stating "fuck you just shoot me," and charged at [REDACTED]. Fearing for his life, [REDACTED] shot at him. Wilkinson continued to refuse to obey commands to get down and show his hands. Believing that the [REDACTED] home was still occupied and Wilkinson would take a hostage, [REDACTED] shot at Wilkinson. Wilkinson was wounded in the thigh.

We find that Wilkinson's actions provoked Deputy [REDACTED] to act in lawful self-defense and defense of others. We are closing our file and will take no further action in this matter.

Very truly yours,

STEVE COOLEY
